Dear Prime Minister

The transatlantic trafficking of enslaved African labour resulted in brutal human exploitation.

The Slave Trade's legacy remains through colonialism, apartheid, racism, fascism, economic and social deprivation, unfair trade agreements and debts owed by some African and Asian countries to richer nations that exploited them.

The living costs crisis together with a lack of workers' rights has disproportionately impacted BAEM people's daily lives while anti "immigrant" poison spouted by politicians and others has created a fertile ground for racist and fascist riots we have witnessed on our streets.

I am one of many therefore calling on your government to:

Compensate affected nations through aid, debt cancellation and trade agreements to benefit poorer nations and their workers;

Support the organisation of an annual Remembrance Day of the Slave Trade;

Abolish racist legislation and policies designed to create a 'hostile environment';

Implement an industrial strategy that will restore decent living standards for all our citizens.
