BAN ENGINEERED STONE IN THE UK TAKE ACTION NOW

Engineered stone, a material commonly used in kitchen worktops and household surfaces, is causing a deadly disease in workers across the UK.

When cut or polished, it releases dangerous dust particles that causes silicosis – an incurable and often fatal disease that destroys their lungs.

Some workers are becoming seriously ill in their 30's.

We are calling on the UK government for a total ban on engineered stone to protect workers' lives.

Australia has acted with a nationwide ban on engineered stone. California is now pushing for the same protections.

The UK government cannot ignore the mounting evidence, while more workers fall ill.

THE GOVERNMENT MUST ACT NOW, BEFORE MORE LIVES ARE DESTROYED.
